

Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Wednesday 25 Aug 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:

Long sunny spells, and a dry day.

Today:

Patchy cloud through the region lifting throughout the morning, though lingering around Bristol. A dry day with periods of prolonged sunshine. Feeling warm in the sun, with light winds. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Tonight:

Clear and dry through the evening and night. The possibility of patches of fog forming under the clear skies. Some cloud moving in through the early morning. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Thursday:

Any fog and mist clearing through the morning. Cloud moving westwards, leaving long spells of sunshine in the afternoon. Remaining dry, and warm in the sun. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:

Fine and dry with sunny spells on Friday. Cloudier on Saturday though with some sunny spells and remaining dry. Long sunny spells and dry on Sunday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.